There's a growing recognition of holistic care, in retired living places or old age homes. Holistic care includes activities that cater to the emotional and mental well-being of elderly residents.

That's why various music and cultural events that enrich the minds and hearts are organised regularly at Aumorto, a senior living initiative in Uttarbagh, Baruipur, an initiative of Sri Aurobindo Institute of Culture, Kolkata, supported by Tata Trusts.

This feature of Aumorto distinguishes it from all other senior living facilities in India.
